Section 1 - Policy Statement

Danville Transit has a strong commitment to the community we serve and our employees. As an equal opportunity employer, we strive to have a workforce that reflects the community we serve. No person is unlawfully excluded from employment opportunities based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex (including gender identity, sexual orientation, and pregnancy), age, genetic information, disability, veteran status, or other protected class.

Danville Transit Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) policy applies to all employment actions, including but not limited to, recruitment, hiring, selection for training, promotion, transfer, demotion, layoff, termination, rates of pay, or other forms of compensation.

All applicants and employees have the right to file complaints alleging discrimination. Retaliation against an individual who files a charge or complaint of discrimination, participates in an employment discrimination proceeding (such as an investigation or lawsuit), or otherwise engages in protected activity is strictly prohibited and will not be tolerated. Danville Transit is committed to providing reasonable accommodations to applicants and employees who need them because of a disability or to practice or observe their religion, absent undue hardship.

The Transportation Services Department Director for the City of Danville will maintain overall responsibility and accountability for Danville Transit's compliance with its EEO policy and plan and related functions including complaint investigation. Danville Transit does not maintain a separate Board of Directors and is governed by Danville City Council. The City of Danville maintains a City-Manager form of government.

All Danville Transit supervisory personnel share in the responsibility for implementing and monitoring Danville Transit's EEO policy and plan within their respective areas and will be assigned specific tasks to ensure compliance is achieved. Danville Transit will evaluate its supervisors' performance on their successful implementation of Danville Transit's policies and procedures, in the same way Danville Transit assesses their performance regarding other agency's goals.

Danville Transit is committed to undertaking and developing a written nondiscrimination program that sets forth the policies, practices, and procedures, to which the agency is committed and make the EEO policy and plan available for inspection by any employee or applicant for employment upon request. Danville's Transportation Services Director is personally committed to a workplace that acts upon its daily responsibility to treat all applicants and employees with dignity and respect, as well as equitably under the guidelines of our EEO policy and plan.

Section 6 - Assessment of Employment Practices

Danville Transit is fully committed to a workforce that reflects the community we serve. Danville Transit will not tolerate any person being unlawfully excluded from employment or promotion opportunities based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex (including gender identity, sexual orientation, and pregnancy), age, genetic information, disability, veteran status, or other protected class.

Testing
Potential bus driver candidates must pass a drug screening and physical before employment. After completing Danville Transit driver training, a supervisor rides with new bus operators to ensure they are properly trained and feel comfortable with providing service. All new drivers who have been approved to drive in writing by supervisors then meet with the Transportation Services Director to ensure they are knowledgeable of Danville Transit’s policies and work rules as well as Danville’s policies and procedures.

Promotions and Transfers
Danville Transit encourages its current employees to advance within the organization. Additionally, bus operators are encouraged to learn, and offered training, to work in the office. This cross-training increases the employee's skills and makes them more marketable and competitive for promotions and transfer opportunities.

Training
Beyond required training to perform the duties required of each position, Danville Transit works within its budget to offer additional training opportunities. Bus operators are encouraged to learn, and offered training, to work in the office. This cross training increases the employee's skills and makes them more marketable and competitive or future opportunities as they become available. Office staff and drivers identified for increased responsibilities are offered to complete formal supervisory training based on their existing skills and abilities. Through outreach efforts Danville Transit works with female and minority groups to identify skills needed to fill vacancies and options to gain those skills.

Compensation and Benefits
It is Danville Transit’s policy to administer wages and salaries based on the duties of the job performed and the individual’s prior work experience, education, performance, and training. The Transportation Services Director shall, prior to the preparation of yearly budget estimates, make an analysis and recommendation on the pay plan. This analysis may include such items as changes in prevailing rates of pay in comparable positions in the public sector, and in the local private sector; recruitment and retention experience; and internal pay relationships among classes.

Disciplinary Procedures and Termination Practices

Danville Transit recognizes the need for clearly defined disciplinary procedures and termination practices. Therefore, these procedures and practices are defined in the City of Danville’s personnel handbook.

The Statistical Impact of Employment Practices on Minorities and Women will be documented as required for hires, promotions, training, termination and discipline.

These meetings serve to discuss the EEO Program and its implementation and meet with employees and affinity groups to seek input on the program implementation. These semiannual meetings will enable Danville Transit to evaluate its EEO Program and take any necessary corrective action regarding the development and execution of programs, goals, and timetables. Following the conclusion of these semiannual meetings, the Transportation Services Director Officer will report the outcomes to Danville’s City Manager and the Transportation Advisory Committee.
Section 8 - EEO Complaint Process
